

When an exoplanet is discovered, one of the first things astronomers want to know is its

Composition

or the combination of elements that make up the planet.

water

Is the exoplanet a water world?

gas

Or is it a gas giant?

rock

Perhaps it is a rocky world!

exoplanet?

COMPOSITION can help astronomers determine whether an exoplanet could be HABITABLE.