

Habitable

zone

Every star has three

SPECIAL ZONES

surrounding it. These zones are divided by TEMPERATURE. Just like in Goldilocks, there is a zone that's TOO HOT for life, a zone that's TOO COLD, and one that is JUST RIGHT! The middle zone is the "just right" zone, called the HABITABLE ZONE. Planets there are the most likely to support life.